

Can I change my major after being accepted into a college?

Yes at some schools and No at others, you can change your major after being accepted at most universities. Most likely you will have to meet with your counselor or advisor to make sure that you meet all the requirements for the intended major and complete a change of major form. Keep in mind that this process may be more difficult at certain colleges than others. Then some universities require a student to declare a major at the time of admission (i.e. Cal Poly San Luis Obispo).
